

Dear Sir or Madam,

My name is Martin Fesus, and I am a recent graduate of the Donat Banki Technical Faculty at Dunaujvaros University. I completed my studies in June 2025.

I am excited to apply for the technical position advertised by your esteemed company. In my attached resume, you can find detailed information about the professional experience I gained both during my academic practical training and through various workplaces. I have always approached my tasks with diligence, striving to deliver the highest quality work.

I enjoy both team collaboration and independent work. I am passionate about my chosen career, always aiming for continuous improvement, as I believe adaptability is crucial in today's ever-evolving world. I am eager to participate in any professional training courses that help me further develop my skills. I am a reliable individual who adapts quickly to new environments. In my free time, I pursue a healthy lifestyle through regular exercise. Traveling is also one of my passions, as it allows me to broaden my experiences. Moreover, I am committed to enhancing my English language skills, which I believe would be an asset in communicating with international partners.

Following my graduation, I am looking for a workplace that offers both challenges and growth opportunities. I would be delighted to discuss my background and ambitions in greater detail in a personal interview. My goal is to contribute actively to your company's success and become a valued team member.

Thank you very much for considering my application. I am readily available via email and phone throughout the day and look forward to your prompt response.

Sincerely,

Martin Fesus
